

The background of the cover is a photograph of a narrow alleyway. The walls are covered in colorful graffiti and murals. A prominent feature is a large mural of a tree with a green trunk and branches, and a canopy made of crumpled paper and plastic in shades of white, red, and blue. The alleyway leads to a street with more graffiti and a blue trash bin in the foreground.

CULTURE AND THE UNIVERSITY

Education,
Ecology,
Design

Ronald Barnett
Søren S.E. Bengtsen
Rikke Toft Nørgård

BLOOMSBURY

Contents

Preface	viii
Introduction: Whatever Happened to the University for Culture?	1
Part I Warring Cultures and a Universal Culture Ronald Barnett
1 The Cultural Crisis of the University	17
2 Culture Wars: Multiplication and (Possible) Re-unification	30
3 A Common Culture: No and Maybe	43
4 For the University and the World: A Culture of the Earth	56
Part II Designing for Cultural Places Rikke Nørgård
5 Placeful Cultures and Cultural Places	71
6 The Atmospheric University and Cultural Atmospheres	83
7 Cultures for Collective Visioning and Future-Making	96
8 Futurescaping Alternative Universities	109
Part III Within and beyond Culture Søren Bengtzen
9 Higher Education as Cultural Formation	125
10 Cultural Leadership	137
11 The Indivisible	149
12 Beyond Culture	161
Part IV Dialogical Imaginings
13 University Culture as Force, Coexistence, Endeavour and Entanglement Rikke Nørgård	175
14 A University of One's Own Søren Bengtzen	189
15 An Ecological Culture for a Non-Comprehending World Ronald Barnett	202
Endnote: Uniting the University and Even the Earth: The Twin Cultures Ronald Barnett	215
Bibliography	217
Subject Index	239
Name Index	247